

LAN

The MIS Department laptops all have a built-in Lan connections. This connection allows you to easily get high-speed internet using a network cable and a network port. Since every network is configured differently, with different procedures to connect, you will need to contact the owner of the LAN network for directions on how to connect. Most hotels which provide LAN access will have instructions in the room or at the frontdesk.